Encountering the Holy During Advent

Encountering the Holy During Advent: An Invitation to the Contemplative Gifts of the Season (Workshop)

Sunday, November 25, 7:00-8:30 p.m.

The upcoming season of Advent is an invitation to create space in the busy weeks ahead for encountering the Holy and receiving the gifts of joy, peace and hope. This free workshop is an introduction to the Advent season and to new ways of approaching it that will enrich your spiritual journey. Facilitated by Joanna Quintrell, Spiritual Director and Journey Center Executive Director. Register online (www.journeycenter.org) or by calling the Journey Center at 707-578-2121.

Advent Reflections: A Candlelight Contemplative Gathering

Sundays, Dec 2, 9, 16 & 23, 7:00 - 8:00 p.m.

In the Christian tradition, the season of Advent is the month preceding Christmas and is meant to be a time of reflecting on the meaning of the coming of the Christ-child. Each Sunday in Advent, we gather to create space in this busy season for encountering God and receiving the gifts of joy, peace, love and hope. All are welcome, from all spiritual paths, for this time of beautiful seasonal music, contemplative readings and prayerful meditation.
